

firstcut

HEAVY READING

Golf Through the Ages: 600 Years of Golfing Art, by Michael Flannery and Richard Leech, will require a sturdy coffee table—and a hefty investment. The leather-bound, 440-page collection of golf's finest art, to be published January 31, weighs more than 12 pounds. A limited edition with an original watercolor of The Old Course at St. Andrews sold out in a special pre-publication sale, despite a $5,500 price tag. You can pick up one of several other editions (all are available in greater numbers and some don't include the Old Course painting) for $950 to $3,000 at www.golfthroughtheages.com.